

BELMOND

ANDEAN EXPLORER

PERU

Traverse the Andes in Peruvian inspired comfort

Traverse one of the highest train routes in the world. South America's first luxury sleeper rail cruise, The Belmond Andean Explorer, offers a choice of either one night or two-night journeys. From Cusco, the ancient capital of the Inca Empire, travel the highest plains of the Andes before arriving at the beautiful Lake Titicaca. Explore the Colca Canyon. The 120km long "Cañón del Colca" is set among high volcanoes (6613m-high Coropuna and 6310m-high Ampato are the tallest). It is the deepest canyon in the American continent (4,160 mts) and belongs to the five deepest in the world (according to current data The Colca Canyon occupies the third place in the world after Kali Gandaki in Nepal with 4,375 mts). Next continue towards the city centre of Arequipa, a UNESCO World Heritage site. Arequipa is also known as the "White City" due to its several buildings made from sillar, a smooth white volcanic stone.

Cañón del Colca

The Belmond Andean Explorer does not travel all night so guests can enjoy better night's sleep. The service is an ideal add-on to a trip to the famed Machu Picchu journey of the Belmond Hiram Bingham – another luxury train journey which takes you to Machu Picchu. The Belmond Andean Explorer travel in both directions on the route. This journey from Cusco to Puno is called the Spirit of the Water, as the train stops by night aside Lake Titicaca, the highest world's highest navigable lake at 12,500 feet. Hotels can be arranged in Peru before and after the journey. There are in-built oxygen and a complimentary oxygen gas canister in the cabins for use by guests as required.

There is capacity for 48 guests. In the range of en-suite cabins is included 8 Double Bed Suites, 11 Twin Bed Cabins and 5 Bunk Bed Cabins.

There is a lounge car, a spa car and an observation car with a large open-air deck for scenic viewing and two dining cars.

Discover true pleasure and relax as you step into your own personal sanctuary. Belmond Andean Explorer offers three types of cabins, each with its own en-suite bathroom and shower.
